

Unlock New Opportunities for Your Organization

We're excited to hear that you are interested in becoming a member of the Association of Science and Technology Centers (ASTC)—a vibrant, global community advancing the public understanding of science and technology for over 50 years.

As a Science Center and Museum (SCM) member, you will be joining a powerful community of nearly 600 members, including over 475 peers as an SCM member.

Over 60% of SCM memberships are made of small museums with an annual operating revenue of $3 million dollars or less. Small museums are the core of our membership, and we work to support organizations like yours through memberships levels that meet you where you are . With a small investment, you'll access to a multitude of offers and opportunities.

What will your team gain?

- Expand your member benefits
 - Join our global reciprocal admission program of over 380 organizations.
- Sustainable membership pricing
 - Membership dues are based on an organization's annual operating revenue to meet you where you are
- Access to exclusive member discounts
 - Receive Student Rates for our Annual Conference, job postings, and more.
- Access to exclusive grant and funding opportunities
 - Over $1.05 million was awarded to 150+ members between October 2023 and September 2024 alone.
- Insider access to data and insights
 - Participation and access to member-only surveys, reports, and toolkits to inform your strategy, operations, and planning.

No matter what your size or budget is, you'll find value and support with ASTC. Let's grow your reach, empower your staff, and strengthen your community—together.
